Dear Ed, Your 29 is kind but sxceswe, and while I appreciate both, I suggest you consider not that I am a prophet but that we are with disgustingly few exceptions bright people who are plain incompetent and consummate fools unable to separate thorugh from lust, desire from reality, jealousy from principle (aka "good conscience". Think a bit more about the Kennedy Position. I am, for example, hardly a Bobby partisan, but you have not really considered the position in which he was. Thanks for clips. I knew Cyril had invented the wheel and discovered sex, but not to ealim credit for daylight-svaing time is a tribute to his proper modesty, to the himility of the great man!. HW
